

CHARGES FEDERAL AGENT TOOK BRIBE

COUNSEL FOR DAUGHERTY DEMANDS SUBPOENA BE SENT VANDERLIP

INQUIRY OPENS WITH BLAZE OF PYROTECHNICS

Cleveland Broker Takes Stand In Trial of Attorney General

Washington, March 21.—The Daugherty investigation started off in a blaze of fireworks today, when counsel for Attorney General Daugherty demanded at the outset of the hearing that the investigating committee immediately issue a subpoena for Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, and "hold him here" until they have had an opportunity to examine him on the witness stand.

Vanderlip recently came to Washington and volunteered his services to the committee, and during his stay has issued numerous statements, implying grave scandals in the government.

The committee indicated Vanderlip would be summoned.

More fireworks came within a few minutes after the first witness took the stand, William R. Hayes, a Cleveland broker, who said that Jesse W. Smith, late close friend of Attorney General Daugherty's had established with his firm a "secret account" for his divorced wife, Miss Roxie Stinson. Hayes said he turned this account over to Mel Daugherty, brother of the attorney general, after Smith's death.

"That was Mrs. Stinson's account you gave to Mel Daugherty?" Senator Ashurst, Democrat of Arizona, charged.

"I can't pass on that," Hayes said. "Well, I think you are an unfaithful trustee and I wouldn't trust you with ten cents," Ashurst shouted.

"I think you ought to be prosecuted for unlawful conversation," Hayes said Attorney General Daugherty had no account with his firm.

The Smith-Stinson account, which totaled $11,400, is now being litigated in Ohio courts and the probate court at Columbus has ruled the money belonged to Smith's estate.

Hayes was closely questioned about Roxie Stinson's testimony that he told her he once saw Jesse Smith with $75,000 in thousand dollar bills. Hayes denied the statement.

Samuel L. Landon, former Columbus broker, was called to corroborate Miss Stinson's testimony that Jesse Smith gave her shares of stock while she was associated with the attorney general. Landon testified that Miss Stinson sent him 25 shares of White Motors stock in September, 1922, for immediate sale.

The stocks had her name on the face, indicating it was a brand new issue.

Daugherty's counsel then demanded that officials of the White Motors be called to explain how the stock reached Miss Stinson's hands.

Wheeler and ex-senator George Chamberlain, Daugherty's counsel, enveloped the hearing with a tit for tat admission into the records of telegrams sent and received by Jesse Smith, Chamberlain demanded the right to see the telegrams first "as a matter of courtesy."

DURAND AGAIN TO SEEK GOVERNORSHIP

Columbus, O., March 21.—Attorney C. Homer Durand, Coshocton, defeated two years ago in the contest for the Republican nomination for governor, is today a candidate for the same office. His candidacy was announced last night at a dinner at which the Moderation League of Ohio was formed.

The league will wage a vigorous campaign in support of Durand.

Stating that "the cards seem stacked" against him, relative to the Republican nomination, which he declared to be his natural choice, Attorney Durand said that if he does not receive the endorsement of the G. O. P. he will enter the campaign as an independent candidate for governor.

BRITISH FLIERS TO START TUESDAY

London, March 21.—Great Britain's effort to beat the United States in the flight around the world will start Tuesday from Calcutta with three planes piloted by A. S. C. MacLaren, squadron commander, and Pilote W. N. Plenderleith and Sergeant Andrews. The British fliers, if successful, should cross the air trail of the American aviators at Delhi, India, from where the British airmen will continue along the coast to Alaska, thence to New Foundland and either direct to Ireland or via the Azores to Portugal.

HOW FLYERS WILL SEEK TO GIRDLE GLOBE

This photo-diagram shows the proposed route to be followed by the four Douglas World Cruiser biplanes of the United States Army Air Service in their attempted flight around the world. Three of the airplanes already are on the wing, and the fourth will catch them before reaching Seattle. The chief stopping places of the flight are indicated. The flyers are under the command of Major Martin. The other insert shows the type of airplane used.

SINCLAIR CHALLENGES RIGHT OF COMMITTEE TO QUESTION HIM

Washington, March 21.—Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil man, who leased Teapot Dome from Albert B. Fall, sat on the witness stand before the senate oil investigating committee for two hours today and twiddled his thumbs, while his lawyers wrangled with the senators on the committee over whether Sinclair had to testify.

No conclusion had been reached at the end of two hours legal give and take, so at noon Sinclair stepped down from the stand and the committee adjourned until tomorrow when a decision will be forthcoming as to the committee's powers to compel Sinclair to testify.

Washington, March 21.—Counsel for Harry F. Sinclair challenged the right of the senate oil investigating committee today to interrogate the oil magnate concerning the lease of Teapot Dome which he secured from Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior.

Sinclair himself, smilingly occupied the witness stand while his array of counsel, comprising Martin W. Littleton, of New York, Col. J. W. Zevely and G. T. Standorff, general counsel for the Sinclair interests, argued that the committee was without power to compel Sinclair to testify.

It was the oil magnates sixth appearance on the stand in the oil investigation but the first time since his return from Europe. It was during his absence that Archie Roosevelt, who had been "pried the lid off" Teapot Dome.

The oil man was apparently in good humor and agreeably posed for a battery of movies while waiting to resume his role as a witness.

Littleton challenged the whole power and jurisdiction of the senate public lands committee. Littleton held that the right of the congressional committees to subpoena witnesses and their records and books has never been sustained.

Sinclair leaned back comfortably while Littleton delivered his statement, idly examining the fit of a pair of new spats, winding his wrist watch and blowing smoke rings.

Much time was consumed discussing precedents when Littleton and Senator Walsh, one of the senate's recognized authorities on constitutional law became involved in differences on the powers of congress and its committees.

"If your contention is correct, no congressional committee can go ahead with the present investigation. We might as well close up and quit," Walsh finally interjected.

"The committee might as well quit unless they keep within their well defined powers."

Senator Spencer asked if Littleton meant to imply that congress should data for wise legislation.

"Certainly not," shouted Littleton, "when it depends upon the intelligence of the committee."

HAYS TO TESTIFY

New York, March 21.—Will Hays, formerly chairman of the Republican National committee, left New York this morning to testify before the senate oil lease investigating committee at Washington. He declined to make any statement.

VITAMIN IS AT LAST ISOLATED

New York, March 21.—Many inquiries from physicians and medical societies throughout the country were received today by Dr. Walter H. Eddy of Columbia University following his announcement that he had succeeded in isolating a vitamin.

Dr. Eddy's discovery followed years of experimenting during which he searched for the mystery food element, accepted by the medical profession, but never explained. Medical men long have recognized that the presence of vitamins of one type of food seemed necessary to growth.

Dr. Eddy said his discovery would not be used in food tablets or synthetic breads, but would be applied to a scientifically intelligent and accurate method of determining proper diet.

ADJOURN EARLY IS COOLIDGE'S CONGRESS PLEA

President Would Speed Up Legislative Program Now

Washington, March 21.—President Coolidge has planned conferences with house and senate leaders to map out a definite legislative program and a time for adjournment. By April 15 or 20 Coolidge believes the house will have passed all the appropriation bills and the immigration bill. Then will remain only agriculture and possibly railroad legislation, but it is regarded as doubtful whether the latter question will be acted on.

A series of three-day recesses for the house will be suggested, while the senate, which has passed practically no legislation, will be urged to get down to business.

Senator James Watson of Indiana, a Republican member of the senate finance committee, predicted that the bonus bill will be given priority in the committee over the tax measure.

Watson said it was likely such a proposition would be made to the committee within a day or two and work started on the bonus measure next week. Chairman Smoot has indicated he would favor such a move, saying it was necessary that the committee know how much revenue would be expended for the bonus before deciding definitely on tax schedules.

Amendment of the house bonus bill appears certain with both Republicans and Democrats of the senate committee advocating new proposals.

Chairman Reed Smoot introduced a proposed amendment to increase slightly the value of the life insurance policies provided for in the bill and make them payable only at death rather than at the end of 20 years, and to eliminate the borrowing feature of the insurance clause in the house measure.

Senator F. M. Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, announced he would seek adoption of a full cash payment option, as was advocated by house Democrats.

The first deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $156,371,785, was reported by the senate appropriations committee. The committee added $2,174,000 to the bill as passed by the house. Most of the items added were for "judgments and audit claims." A $150,000 authorization was put in for purchase of an embassy in Paris.

THREE YEAR OLD CHILD RECEIVES FATAL BURNS

GIRL RESIDING NEAR XENIA IS MATCH VICTIM

Eva Marie Gray Is Burned As Dress Is Ignited at Home.

Suffering from major burns, practically covering the body from the hips to the head, little Eva Marie Gray, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, Union Road, five miles from Xenia, was rushed to the hospital today.

The child was unconscious and delirious Friday from the effect of burns sustained Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when her clothing caught fire from a flaming match lighted by one of the other children in the family as they were playing in an upstairs room. Before her mother rushed to the room in answer to the child's screams, the flames had enveloped her body.

There are eight children in the family, and the smaller children were playing together in the upstairs room, while Mrs. Gray was downstairs. The youngsters could not tell a coherent story of how the accident happened, but that one of them found a match. Mrs. Gray says the children were afraid of fire and she does not believe they lighted the match intentionally.

According to the story she got from the children, she believed the match was lighted accidentally and possibly that the head flew off and ignited the child's dress. Attracted by the screams Mrs. Gray ran to the room and tore the clothing from the child's body, sustaining slight burns on the hands in her effort to extinguish the flames.

The little girl was burned principally about the back, where the burns are the deepest. Dr. R. L. Haines, of Paintersville, the attending physician, says the burns are second and third degree in nature, and serious. He believes the condition of the child critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray and children moved to their present home on the Union Road only recently, coming here from Edgefield, in Fayette County.

INCOME TAX CHECKS FROM PROPERTY OF ALIENS FORWARDED

Washington, March 21.—Checks aggregating $9,708,633 income tax on property of former enemy aliens seized during the war have been forwarded to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore by Allen Property Custodian T. W. Miller, the treasury announced today.

While the internal revenue bureau is prohibited by law from making public names of taxpayers, it was stated that a considerable part of the amount was collected from property of Grover C. Bergdoll, draft dodger, now hiding in Germany.

The largest amount paid upon an individual account of an enemy alien was $3,000,000 according to the announcement. All foreign income taxes are paid to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore.

BOY WHO ISN'T GOOD TO MOTHER NOT WORTH MUCH

Washington, March 21.—President Coolidge has accepted the honorary chairmanship of National Boys' Week which is to be observed throughout the United States from April 27 to May 3.

The invitation was extended by William Lewis Butcher of New York, who is leading the movement. Butcher called at the White House this afternoon, accompanied by several boys, and in a brief speech the president told them that there were only two rules for boys—work hard, and behave themselves.

The boy is the father of the man," the president said. "Remember that when you grow up you will be about the same kind of a man as you are a boy. You don't need to rob yourself of your boyhood, but you can take your pleasure in a manly way. You will find that when you grow up that the things you learn now will be the things you must know then. You will have to obey the laws and it is important for you to learn the lesson of obedience now."

"I will be glad to be honorary chairman of this movement. Remember that this is your country and the country will be what you make it. I think it was President McKinley who said: 'A boy doesn't amount to anything unless he is good to his mother.' Let every boy sit down and think how he can be a good boy during boy's week."

CHARGES AGAINST SHERIFF WILL BE LAID BEFORE JURY

Columbus, O., March 21.—Allegation of misconduct in office, made against Frank L. Holycross, sheriff of Franklin County, and charges of accepting a bribe preferred against an employee of the state securities department, probably will be before the grand jury today, it was stated.

Fourteen witnesses have been subpoenaed in connection with the investigation of Sheriff Holycross, including E. C. Hensel, an examiner in the state bureau of accounting and F. S. Evans, deputy state prohibition commissioner.

Ollie Baxter, former deputy sheriff, discharged by Sheriff Holycross last fall, will be another witness. A report in the Holycross case is expected late today or Saturday.

The employee under investigation is alleged to have taken a bribe of $2500 to certify stock of the Pennock Coal Company, of Pennsylvania.

SPRING RIDES IN ON BLIZZARD WHICH BLANKETS AREA IN SNOW

Chicago, March 21.—Spring rode in on a blizzard which continued to sift snow and unleash gusty greetings today after laying a blanket of snow four inches over the Midwest and Great Lakes territory today.

Unlike its winter predecessors, which moved down from the Canadian Northwest, the blustery season's finale came from the Southwest, where Muskogee, Oklahoma, reported sixteen inches of snow.

Enroute north and east, it reminded Missouri, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan that coal supplies might yet call for re-inforcements.

St. Louis receiving four inches of sticky snow and southern Illinois and Indiana cities a depth that blocked traffic. The northwest received none, nor did Nebraska and Iowa.

BOY BANDITS CAUGHT

Cleveland, O., March 21.—Two boy bandits, both 17, were caught by a Cleveland policeman today, after a chase which ended on a street car. Other recommendations by the public prosecutor were six years fortress imprisonment for defendants Poehner, Kriebel and Weber; two years for Roehm, one year, six months for Wagner and one year and three months for Pernit.

ENATOR BURKE TO ADDRESS KIWANIS CLUB IN XENIA

Senator J. F. Burke, of Elvira, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Ohio, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Xenia Kiwanis Club, Wednesday, March 26, it is announced by E. H. Leathman, chairman of the local program committee.

Senator Burke is at present a member of the upper house of the state legislature, but has already announced his intention of entering the Republican gubernatorial race. His subject at the Xenia meeting, however, will be non-political, and is expected to be along Kiwanis lines.

Although club members have not been advised as to the theme of his address, it is expected Senator Burke will deal at least in part with his address, "The Business Man in Politics," which has won considerable favorable comment for him when delivered before business organizations. The subject will be treated in a general way with no references to partisan politics.

The address of Senator Burke will follow the usual dinner at the Elk's Club.

ELECTRIC FIRMS OBJECTS OF SUIT

Cleveland, March 21.—Suits were filed by the government in federal court here against the General Electric company, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and Westinghouse Lamp company. The government charges a conspiracy between the three companies to control the price of electric lamps.

The petition sets forth that practically all the electric lamp business of the United States in 1921 was controlled by the three companies with the exception of 2.8 per cent conducted by independents. Trade in lamps by the General Electric company amounts to $50,000,000 or more a year, it is charged in the petition.

That the system of contracts existing between the General Electric company and the several parties engaged in the lamp business be adjudged an unlawful combination and conspiracy is asked by the government.

SAYS REPUBLICAN CHIEFS SHOULD FIGHT

Columbus, March 21.—Charles W. Montgomery, Republican state committee chairman, addressing the Republican women's "Plattsburg" session at the Deshler hotel here, said: "I have one criticism to make of the Republican party in Washington today. The Republican leaders are taking their punishment lying down, instead of fighting. It may be vain to discuss the situation, as we all agree that to the extent that there is crime and graft it should be punished. But the crime and graft are relatively negligible, mind, I said, relatively, in view of the hubbaloob and noise. It is time that those radicals from the northwest, who are a little better than anarchists, and those loudmouthed demagogues from the southern states should be told what the facts are and what the Republican party stands for. Those reckless Democrats and radicals should be given a definition of the prerogatives of the United States senate."

MATTIE M. BOTELER

Versatile has been the career of Miss Mattie M. Boteler of Cincinnati, former resident of Jamestown, whose achievements as an author, artist, teacher and preacher have earned her recognition in this list of biographies.

Miss Boteler began her literary career in the Xenia Gazette, Col. Findlay publishing her first poem and explaining that it was the work of a little girl in Jamestown who printed by hand her first story before she mastered the art of writing.

Her fondness for writing was apparent when she was very young; for she wrote on ribbon paper at her father's store in Jamestown. She received her education in the Jamestown grade and high schools, but mastered language and art by much outside study. She was a contributor to papers many years, and in 1894 was called to the editorship of The Lookout, in Cincinnati, being instrumental in greatly increasing the subscription list.

Miss Boteler organized and finances the Lay Evangelist Club which has placed many young men in the ministry. She originated the "Vest Pocket Commentary," which is in great demand, the quarters of the Standard Publishing Company at Cincinnati are her work, she is a valued member of the Christian Standard and the C. D. Q. plan so successfully used by the David C. Cook Company is also her work.

Miss Boteler is the author of seven books, five of which are fiction. She is the author of "Sermon Notes on the Ministry of Jesus" and "Comments on Romans," that are widely read and she is an authority on Bible studies, having lectured in churches and chautauquas as well as in the Great Boteler Bible Class.

Twenty-eight years ago when the class had four scholars she took charge and has increased the enrollment to more than 150 with membership in every state, who also subscribe to The Speaker, the class paper. Miss Boteler received considerable publicity when the class celebrated its anniversary last fall.

Miss Boteler says she was born to be an artist but turned out to be something else. On occasion, however, she indulged her penchant for painting and has lately produced several pictures that have attracted favorable notice to her work. Miss Boteler now lives at 251 Earnshaw Avenue, Cincinnati.

McFADDEN TO PASS BILL PROPOSING BANK LAW CHANGES

Washington, March 21.—Representative McFadden of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, proposes important legislation amending the national banking laws in a bill which he will press for early consideration.

The proposed legislation would make 16 amendments in the laws now governing the operations of more than 8,000 national banks. Chairman McFadden will seek to reach a solution of the prolonged controversy over branch banking. His bill will amend existing law so as to permit national banks to establish branches in states where state banks are allowed this privilege, and to prohibit, after the passage of the proposed act, the extension of statewide branch banking in the federal reserve system. Mr. McFadden says he regards the "teller window" stations, which the comptroller of currency has announced national banks may open when duly authorized, as equivalent to branches, and therefore barred under the recent decision handed down by the supreme court on the branch bank question.

Under the McFadden bill national banks would be permitted to engage in buying and selling investment bonds. To enable them to meet the increasingly keen competition from state banks the one-year limit which now applies to loans on real estate would be permitted to loan up to one-half of their time deposits on these loans, instead of only one-third as at present. This amendment is designed to enlarge the scope of national banking activities in this field and Mr. McFadden declares it to be one of the most important changes he proposes.

TAPPINGS IN SUB STOP INDICATING DEATH OF ITS CREW

Tokyo, March 21.—Divers engaged in efforts to salvage Submarine 43, sunk off Sasebo, reported that signals from the interior of the vessel had been suspended.

Reports to the Navy Department from Sasebo placed slender hopes upon the efforts of the rescuers to raise the submarine to a position which would make it possible to rescue any survivors.

The submarine, which is 200 feet long, lies in 25 fathoms of water.

Eighteen men of the submarine's crew of four officers and 40 men still were alive yesterday, according to messages sent to surface by tapping. Outside the steel grave of their comrades—their prison, too—10 divers circled, in an effort to attach chains by which the submarine could be pulled up with heavy winches.

The collision with the warship which sank the submarine, took place just as the underwater craft was coming to the surface with her periscope showing.

Through the underwater telephone communication which had been established it was learned that 24 men and two officers, one of them Commander Kuwasima, perished when the forward compartment was flooded as a result of the shattering of the conning tower.

One pulled one way and the other the opposite way, he said. The car, making 22 miles an hour, struck them both, fracturing their skulls. They were dead when taken to a hospital.

Others in Kurka's machine corroborated his story.

A GOOD MAN

Joseph C. Grew, of New Hampshire, minister to Switzerland, was named by President Coolidge to succeed William Phillips as Under-secretary of State. Mr. Phillips was appointed ambassador to Belgium. Mr. Grew has been in the diplomatic service for a number of years and received much prominence shortly after the United States entered the World war by the efficient manner in which he handled the diplomatic matters in Europe and cared for Americans forced to leave the enemy country. He also was the American observer in the Lausanne conference.

OK, WE THINK

The Philippine Plea for immediate independence was dealt a severe blow by President Coolidge last week. The President in a letter to Manuel Roxas, head of the Philippine independence mission, declared flatly that the administration does not believe the time has come to grant independence to the Filipino people, and asserted that grievances against Governor General Wood were unjustified and were, like the independence appeal, unsupported by a considerable portion of the islands' population. A detailed review of the President's letter will appear in the next issue of The National Republican.

IDENTITY OF AIMS

King George sees in the good understanding between Great Britain and the United States "the best guarantee for the future peace of the world." This declaration was made to President Coolidge at the request of the king by Sir Esme Howard and marked the presentation of the new ambassador's credentials to the American Chief Executive. Replying to the ambassador's statement, President Coolidge asserted that the "conscious identity of general aims" existing between the United States and the British government "will be a mighty force in bringing to the world a just and lasting peace."

THE GREAT NATIONAL CATHEDRAL WHICH IS NOW BEING ERECTED IN WASHINGTON

The day is not far away when there will stand in the city of Washington a great cathedral, a monument, shrine and center for the spiritual life of the capital. It will be as beautiful as the Lincoln Memorial, higher above the Potomac than the Washington monument, as impressive as the capitol and embody the quiet dignity of the White House.

The foundations for such a cathedral have been buried deep in the crest of Mount St. Alban, the highest point in the District of Columbia. Today the apse stands like a sentry above the giant oaks. Workmen are engaged in laying with infinite care the stones for the choir. A girls' school and a boys' school evidences of the educational life of the cathedral, are already established institutions. The architects have just completed plans for a great theological library. Thus, not only the physical but the educational and spiritual foundations of the National cathedral have been laid and the vision of George Washington of a "church for national purposes" is being realized.

Not until the beginning of President Cleveland's second administration, however, did Washington's dream begin to take form. As far as is known, President Cleveland was not appraised of the plans, and not until William McKinley became President did the cathedral idea begin to grow.

Twenty-five years ago this fall President McKinley delivered an address at the dedication of the Peace cross at the National cathedral, marking the close of the Spanish-American war. Mr. McKinley was the first President to participate in the ceremonies at Mount St. Alban. Since then, however, the Presidents of the United States, upon many occasions, have attended services and participated in historic gatherings at the great cathedral close. While Vice President, Calvin Coolidge attended historic services there in company with the late President Harding. President Wilson's body was laid to rest there and it is believed that his permanent place of interment will be this magnificent cathedral.

During the quarter of a century that has elapsed since the plans took definite form and the work was actually started the cathedral has occupied an important place in the life of the capital. More historic gatherings attended by distinguished guests from abroad and high officials of the United States have been held there when the Peace cross, the completed apse or the great amphitheater served some national purpose than in any other church in Washington. Although all of the Presidents, since McKinley, worshipped regularly at other churches in Washington, they have been interested not only in the cathedral itself and in the public services held there but in the possibilities of a great revival of preaching and in the influence of a great religious center upon the spiritual and official life of Washington.

The magnificent structure that slowly rises from the heights of Mount St. Alban, where workmen are now engaged in fitting the great stones into place, is perhaps the most visited cathedral in America. A glance at the visitors' register shows that hundreds of tourists from all parts of the United States came there during the past summer.

Completion of the cathedral within the next five years, at a cost of more than $10,000,000, will be one of the chief tasks confronting Bishop Freeman and the National Cathedral Foundation.

Dr. Freeman firmly believes that this plan and others now in the making will be carried out. He is by nature an optimist and has great confidence in man's capacity for good works with divine guidance. One of his characteristic statements appeared in a recent address.

"A man can not be a pessimist and a Christian at once and the same time," he said.

Interest in the National cathedral has not been confined to the clergy and officials of the federal government in Washington. Business and professional men from many parts of the United States have been attracted by the plan to make George Washington's dream come true.

Mrs. P. H.: "I am herewith sending my recipe for Beaten Biscuits in the hope that, in exchange for it, some kind reader will send me a recipe for Beaten Biscuits which calls for either graham or wholewheat flour."

My Beaten Biscuits: Mix together and sift one quart of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of baking powder, and one teaspoon of salt; work into this dry mixture, with the finger-tips, one tablespoon of mixed butter and lard, then stir in three-fourths of a cup of sweet milk and one-fourth cup of water. It should just stick together, as the beating softens it. Beat until it blisters and pops and is very smooth, then cut it out into very small biscuits and stick each one with a fork before placing on a greased pan and baking 20 minutes in a hot oven."

C. N.: "I wonder if others would not like my favorite custard recipe? Here it is: Caramel Baked Custard: Put into your frying pan one-half cup of granulated sugar and place over low heat till melted, then add one-half cup of boiling water and simmer ten minutes or till it becomes a thick sirup (it will sizzle when you add this water, and lump up, but cooking will melt almost all of the lumps). Strain it and set aside. Then beat four whole eggs and two additional egg-yolks slightly (this seems a good many eggs to use, but for a guest meal it is worthwhile); add one-third cup of granulated sugar, a pinch of salt, and then, still beating, add the strained caramel-sirup and two cups of scalded sweet milk. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and sprinkle the top with one-fourth cupful of finely-pounded peanut brittle (this gives a delicious flavor). Place the baking dish in a pan containing a little warm water and slip it, in this way, into a moderate oven. Bake about 40 minutes, or till the middle of the custard is firm. Do not increase heat, as the water in the pan must not boil—or the custard will 'wey'. Serve cold."

Old Housekeeper: "Brides might like to know how I serve leftover roast veal: Veal Rolls: Cut cold, cooked veal in slices, spread each slice with breadcrumbs which have been well seasoned with salt and pepper, then mix with melted butter, and roll up each veal-slice on this dressing. Tie each slice into a little roll. Now sprinkle each veal-roll with flour, salt, and pepper, and brown in a frying pan in hot butter; half cover with either rich milk or veal soup-stock (or canned clear soup) in which one tablespoon of flour has been blended (to thicken the liquid) and let simmer for ten minutes. Remove strings and serve the veal rolls on toast with the liquid.

ASK FOR INFORMATION

Washington, March 20—Secretary of War Weeks was directed in a resolution by Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, passed by the senate today, to furnish complete information regarding the sale of arms and ammunitions to Mexico. The resolution practically called upon Weeks to cite the "statutory authority by which he has sold and delivered" the arms and ammunitions.

ACHE
When you truly find yourself, you have discovered life.
And to discover life is to find something that you didn't expect.
The tiny morsel of flesh that comes into this world and is laid so gently upon a soft covering with love and tenderness, typifies God's way of planting flowers upon this earth.

But it takes only a few brief years—and lo and behold, that baby has begun to open its eyes, to spread its brain cells, and to stir in its heart. The sun of the day is up and there is being born anew, in that bodily life, as well as deep in its soul, the consciousness that there is a sunken ache in all this world that avoids none.

Sometimes this ache is confusing. Many times it stirs up anger, disappointment, resentment. But often—always in great characters—this same ache sweetens and ennobles and puts a solid prop under the hope in one's heart.

Only the hard worker ever knows what it is to bring to his bed at night a frame of aching bones. And only the strong in spirit are able to understand the wealth of concealed power underneath the ache of the heart.
What is a picture without its shadows? And what are aches but shadows from the travail of the weary, the mistakes and blunders that outreach at times the depths of our better selves?

The influence of Jesus rose to its height upon a cross—and now, after nearly two thousand years, that influence has sweetened, strengthened and upheld billions of hearts and made life not only bearable, but temptable from every angle, matter what the odds.

Anatole France once wrote: "This earth is but a grain of sand in the infinite desert of worlds, but if only upon this planet suffering (ache) exists, it is greater than all the rest together. What do I say? It is all; the rest are nothing."

The root has to ache in order to push its life and beauty to the sunlight. Ache, and strive! There will be happiness enough.

SPEAKER ADDRESSES BUSINESS WOMENS CLUB ON THURSDAY

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, gave an address before the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at their March meeting held Thursday evening at the First Reformed church.

Dr. McChesney prefaced his remarks with a number of entertaining stories. He took for his subject "Making the Most of Life," and brought out forcibly the three points that make a success of true living you must "See, Do and Be."

"You must see the needs of the day," he said. "Then you must have a vision upward, a vision of the Infinite One. The great call of the world today is for those who will do His bidding. It is the crying need of humanity. Europe needs something more than the league of nations. It needs a vision of the brotherhood of man, of love, and of service to humanity. Ministering to each other will bind closer than any League of Nations. The churches of the world and the nations of the world will never get together unless they begin to think together, plan together and work together."

The speaker paid a high tribute to those who are doing the every day work of the world. He said the best people in the world are those who work and unite in the effort to make the old world a better place for all to live. He stressed the supreme need of character that is fearless, because it has nothing to hide. It must be sincere and as fine and high in the things done without witnesses as those in public. It must be crowned with the gift of sympathy that enters helpfully into the lives of those about you," he said.

Dr. McChesney spoke of the opportunity presented to the United States today to serve the world. "America," he said, "is the place where the problems of the world must be met and solved. The old world is coming to America to study American systems of education which are the best on earth. America must realize the responsibility and build on a firm foundation of home, schools and churches."

Dr. McChesney's address followed the regular dinner which was served at 6 o'clock in the dining room of the church by the women of the congregation of the Reformed Church. The appointments of the tables were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day. Wide bands of green extended the full length of the tables which were lighted with green candles in crystal candlesticks. At each place were favors in the form of shamrocks or little green flags and the salad and cakes carried out the color scheme.

As the members arrived each was given the name of an Irish family and the various "families" were required to give Irish stunts which enlivened the dinner hour. Preceding the address by Dr. McChesney several Irish songs were delightfully rendered by Miss Henryetta Logan.

The dessert of the dinner, "E" Brand cakes, was presented to the club by the Eavey Wholesale Company.

EXPECT STATE PROBE

Cincinnati, O., March 21—Transcripts of all testimony in habeas corpus liquor cases of five men sentenced to jail by village mayors, was ordered sent today to Governor Donahay by Judge Stanley Struble. His action is expected to be followed by state investigation.

SEVENTY FIVE TON GRANITE SHAFT IS NEARING FINISH

Workmen at the Milford, Mass., quarries of The Dods Granite Company, of this city, are just completing turning down a seventy-five ton shaft, one of the biggest ever made, which will be erected sometime next summer at Washington, D. C., as part of a monument to the First Overseas Division of the U. S. Army, during the World War.

The monument will be a replica of the battle monument at West Point, and will be erected near the White House. The shaft, which is being furnished by the Xenia company, will be the main feature of the memorial and is said to be one of the biggest jobs ever quarried.

The shaft of granite is thirty-five feet long and five feet, six inches in diameter, tapering toward the top, and with cap pieces at each end cut out of the same piece of granite. The huge stone from which it was cut in a solid piece, was quarried and ready for the stone cutting within a week after the company here received the order.

Workmen drilled into a huge section of solid granite composition to break off the original slab. The original section weighed 225 tons, in comparison with the largest stone in any of the Egyptian pyramids, which weigh 100 tons.

The huge slab of granite was attacked by machines at first, that cut off huge pieces of granite, rough-hewing it to an octagon shape, with each end larger. Special tracks were laid directly into the cutting shed to place the slab on the immense lathe, as it was too large for the two cranes in use to handle.

Suspended at each end in the immense lathe, it is being gradually worked down to a tapering, circular shape, and polished, the work proceeding rapidly, so that it will soon be ready for transportation to Washington. Ten more tons will be lost in the lathe process, leaving the shaft with an approximate weight of seventy-five tons.

Charles A. Bone, sales manager of the Xenia concern, addressed members of the Kiwanis Club on the process of manufacturing the shaft at a recent meeting.

CRABBE TO PROBE CHARGES MADE BY JUDGE KILLITTS

Columbus, O., March 21—Attorney General Crabbe today announced he will go to Toledo Monday to begin the investigation into conditions of liquor enforcement in Lucas County, brought about through charges, made by Federal Judge Killitts of Blackmail, extortion and brutality by magistrates and officers.

Attorney General Crabbe will return to Columbus Tuesday, after launching the investigation which will be in charge of H. H. Griswold, special counsel on the attorney general's staff.

A complaint against Law enforcement methods in Mahoning County directed especially against officers from the court of Justice Frank Riss of Berlin Township, was received by Attorney General Crabbe today from Dr. James P. Elder, health commissioner of Mahoning County.

Officers from this court, Dr. Elder stated, have made a practice of stopping machines without other authority than their badges, and searching them for liquor, even after the drivers have established their identity and standing. Dr. Elder said that he was himself a victim of the "insolent tactics" of the officers while pursuing his duties as health commissioner on a recent date.

Attorney General Crabbe will investigate the complaint, which, he stated, was typical of scores of others he has received from points all over the state.

MISS SPRING ARRIVES SUFFERING WITH BAD COLD IN HEAD, INTERVIEWER DISCOVERS

Spring came in Thursday afternoon on snowshoes, carrying an umbrella and sniffling with a cold in the head.

Leap Year, coming to bring the season in a day early, failed to make the stage ready. Winter, laggard that he is, was suffering from a hangover in the guest room.

"Spring is here," said the new season, when interviewed sitting on her luggage, pending the success of the hotel management in an attempt to oust winter from the best suite.

"You cadtake it from me, kid, this trip gets by goat. They sit around here and shout for me all winter and then when I get here, they sprig something like this on me. E-e-magun, blaying around Florida in the eberglades and then combin' up here and gaddin' greened like this. 'S'derrible."

"Yes," said the interviewer, "it must be discouraging to be accustomed to a warm climate and then suddenly crash in while winter is trying to do an ensemble before the curtain goes down. It might interest you to know this is the worst winter we've had all spring. What I mean is, it looks like spite work. But, changing the subject, what have you in your luggage to drive the blues away?"

"Plenty to drive them away, at this time," said spring. "This box here contains sprig flowers, violets, juncos, jump-bugs, daffodils, etcetera. This place will be filled at least trunk contains all the new sprig dresses—sniff, sniff—and the new spring hats. That long box is full of bazelbal stuff—bads and balls 'and equipment. All to the merry, old dear. But wait's the use."

The interviewer hastened to explain that the present wintry aspect is but the last stand of a tired but vindictive old man, who resents the intrusion of modern youth on the scene. He explained in leaving, that the like-like zephyrs would drive a wintry blasts in short order.

"Leds hobe so," replied, lod' of golv' stuff here for the chaze they do. a chaze to out on the eddy zoon, some of them are zzy. Well, zee you all ob a sudden. Da-da-old thig."

CHANGE WILL NOT TAKE PLACE UNTIL NEXT WEEK

The Rev. Albert A. Burke, pastor of St. Brigid's Catholic Church, whose transfer to the pastorate of Corpus Christi Church, Dayton, was to have taken place Saturday has been notified that the change will not take effect until next week.

The change in plans will mean that the Rev. Father Burke will continue in the charge of the church here probably next Thursday, when it is expected that the place will be filled at least temporarily. So far no appointment of a successor has been made.

I Offer Girls

My aids to beauty, and to woman youth

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I had a rich, ambitious mother. She searched the world with me to find the supreme beauty helps.

They made me a famous beauty. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still.

Other girls, in these same ways, can multiply their beauty. Other women can, to old age, keep their youthful bloom. I want to help them do so. The very helps that France gave me are now at your command.

I am very—very busy on the stage. But I am taking time to tell you the secrets of my beauty and my youth. And I hope the time will come when girls and women by the millions will enjoy what I enjoy.

32 Helps in Four
I found 32 things that women need to keep them at their best. French experts combined them in four applications. Thus beauty and perennial youth were made very easy for me.

One is my White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today. This clay is white refined and dainty. Twenty years of scientific study have made it amazingly efficient.

I use White Youth Clay to purge my skin of all that clogs or mars it. It gives me that rosy, baby-like complexion. Blackheads or pimples, oiliness or blemishes are unknown to me.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, keeps the face skin ever like a girl's.

One application of my White Youth Clay brings almost unbelievable results. Many women seem to drop ten years. Continued use does mar-vels, as it did for me. No girl or woman who once tries this clay will ever go without it. The price is 50 cents and $1.

Two Matchless Creams
My Youth Cream is a cold cream, based on lemon and strawberry. It is made to embody all the best that science knows to whiten, feed, protect and smooth the skin. I use it after the clay. It is also my night cream, to apply on retiring. Day-times I use it as a powder base. No one ever found a cold cream to compare with my Youth Cream.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. But it penetrates the skin to the depths. When I wipe it off, all that clogs the skin comes with it. No other method cleans a skin like this.

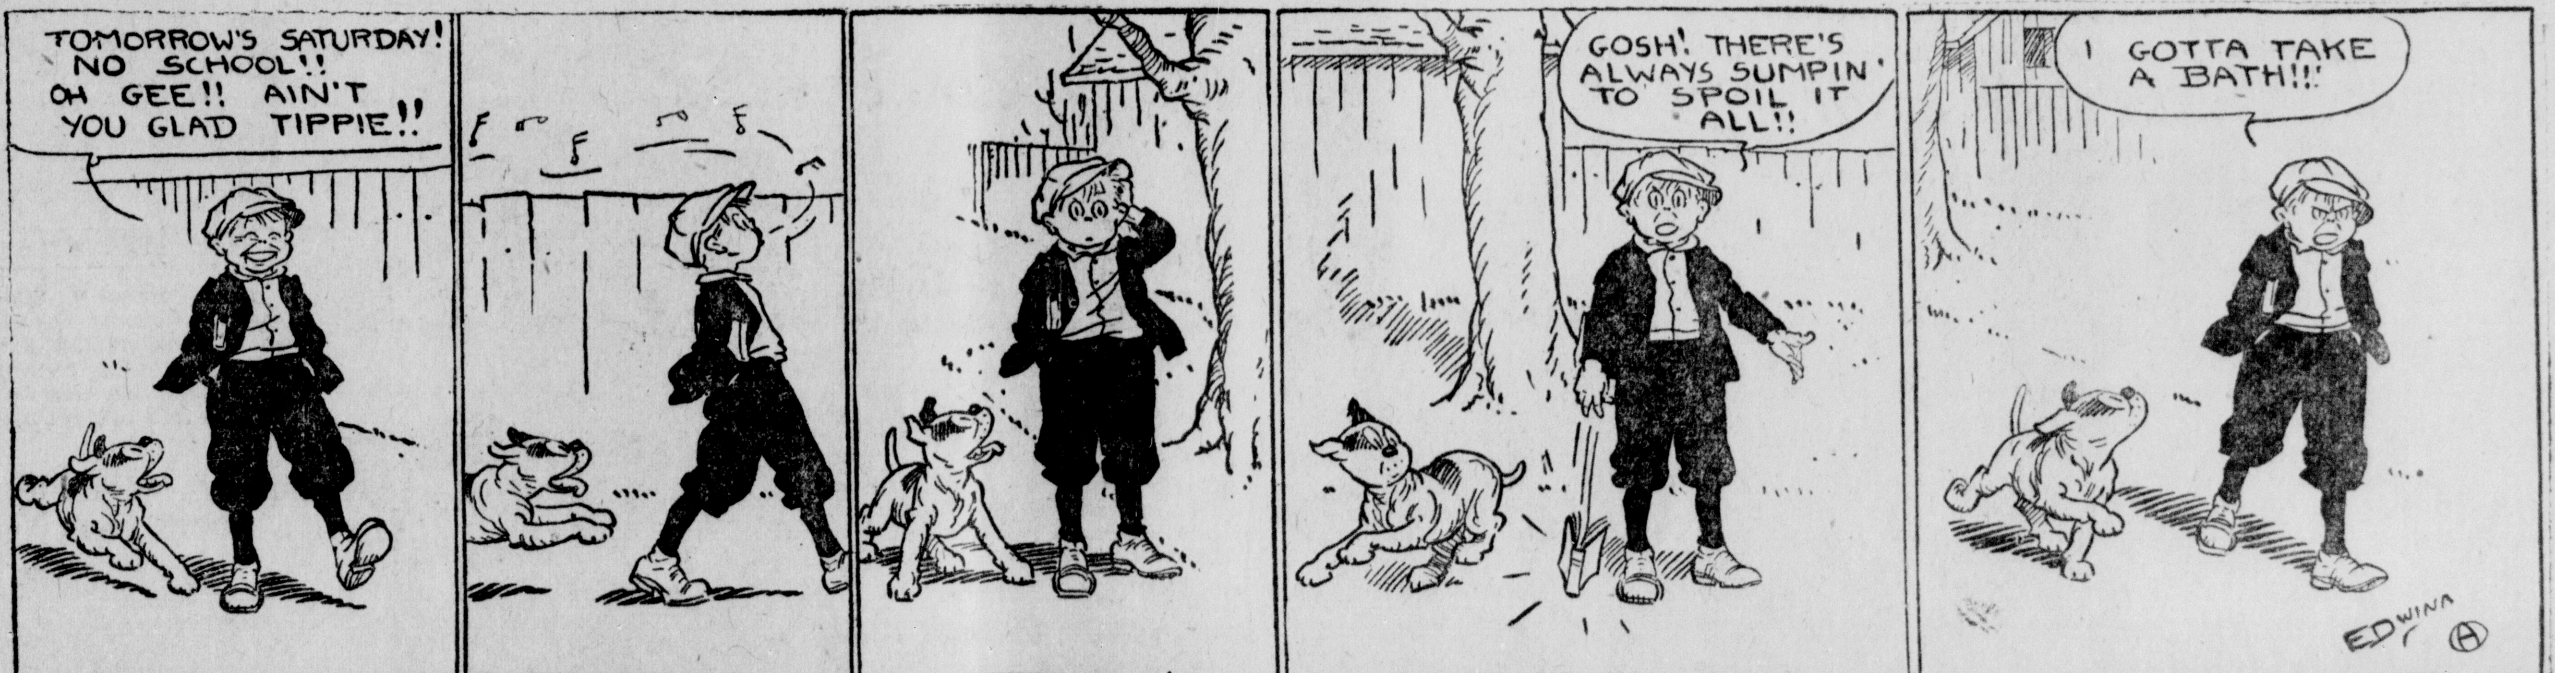

Luxuriant Hair
My hair is thick and lustrous. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray.

This is due to my Hair Youth, another French creation. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It takes but a moment and it does not muss the hair. I can do no greater kindness than to urge you to employ it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these products which I use. The price is small. Every girl or woman, if she will, can have the benefits I got. Go find them out. My Beauty comes with each. Edna Wallace Hopper, 535 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Helping to Preserve Redwood Tracts.

For a time it seemed likely that the giant redwood trees of California were doomed to extinction. However, the Union Lumber Company, of Fort Bragg, and the Pacific Lumber Company, in Scotia, have established nursery plots, where seeds are planted, and reforestation is on. Each company will plant 1,000 acres of redwood in 1924, 2,000 in 1925, and continue until the entire district is reforested. But these seed sowers will never live to see the trees reach the majestic heights of the several-hundred-year-old trees now being cut.

Ka-di-ok, the new herbal stomach remedy, is prompt and efficient in its action on the human system. It is a modern remedy for modern ills, caused by the rush and hustle of the times. Ka-di-ok is a vegetable remedy, made from the juices and extracts of medicinal plants brought up to date by modern science, and is one of the best remedies to be found for all ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood.

Mr. Allen B. Bush, 2006 Pride av., Clark'sburg, W. Va., painter and decorator, member of the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 52; also a member of the Maccabees, Tent No. 19, says:

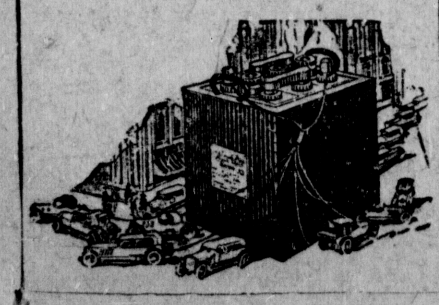

"I have suffered from stomach trouble for nearly twenty years. As a matter of fact, my stomach has always bothered me since I was a boy at school. I have always had to diet myself or pay the penalty for my indulgence. My stomach was so weak at times I could not retain food, and even a drink of water would upset me. I never dreamed I would ever regain my health, for I had tried innumerable remedies without getting any better. I read so many testimonials of people being helped by Ka-di-ok that I was induced to try it. I want to state publicly that since taking this medicine my stomach has not bothered me in the least. I have even eaten pickle beefs and sauerkraut without any ill effects. Formerly my blood was in such a poor condition that the least little cut would fester and take a long time to clear up, but now my blood is as clear as a bell. My general health has improved and I am feeling all right in every way."

Ka-di-ok can be had in Xenia at Sayre and Hemphill Drug Store.

For a time it seemed likely that the giant redwood trees of California were doomed to extinction. However, the Union Lumber Company, of Fort Bragg, and the Pacific Lumber Company, in Scotia, have established nursery plots, where seeds are planted, and reforestation is on. Each company will plant 1,000 acres of redwood in 1924, 3,000 in 1925, and continue until the entire district is reforested. But these seed sowers will never live to see the trees reach the majestic heights of the several-hundred-year-old trees now being cut.

Styles BY LENORE

A charming dress for almost any season is made of black silk crepe, and accents the latest trimming in bands of shining silver lame. The arrangement, you see, is most decorative. You think the effect a bit garish, perhaps, with so much of the silver cloth! I assure you the frock does not give that impression.

The silver bands are subdued by a trailing pattern of dull white embroidery, and the sleeves of pleated white Georgette further reduces the gleaming silver to its proper place in the scheme of the frock. And then, like that ingredient of a salad which gives it all its flavor, there is a fascinating touch of royal blue in the novel little collar which forms such an attractive setting for the face. The blue appears also in the binding of the hem and armholes.

This is an essentially youthful frock which may be worn by the young girl to lunch, tea or the theater, with complete assurance of being smartly frocked.

Constipation breeds 40 diseases

What a wreck of the human body constipation can make. It floods the system with dangerous poisons. It leads to serious diseases. Don't neglect it!

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, if eaten regularly, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. If it fails, your grocer will return your money. Kellogg's is ALL bran. Doctors recommend it. They know that only ALL bran can bring 100 per cent results.

Kellogg's Bran stimulates the intestine in nature's own wonderful way. It sweeps, cleans and purifies! It makes the bowels function naturally—and regularly.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious, nut-like flavor. Eat it with milk or cream—or in the recipes given on every package. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. All grocers.

SUPPLY OF MAPLE SYRUP IS SHORT MAKERS DECLARE

Pancakes, smothered in butter and streaming with maple syrup! The season is here, but the supply of maple syrup is short.

Greene County makers of the delectable sweet say that unfavorable weather has prevented the free flow of the sap in the maple tree, and consequently syrup boiling up until now has been curtailed.

Wednesday and Wednesday night the weather man took pity on the lovers of maple syrup and the sap rose under the influence of the balmy weather and overflowed the buckets in the various camps over the county.

"The best run of the season," said the owners of the maple groves. Although the supply has been short, the sap has been sweeter this year, maple syrup makers say, and hasn't required so much boiling down. Syrup is selling around $2.25 and $2.50 a gallon which is somewhat higher than last year's prices.

Weather featured by frequent thawing with warm sunshine and freezing is necessary to make the sap rise in the trees and flow freely.

One of the largest groves of maple trees in the county is on the farm of D. H. Ketter, occupied by his son A. D. Ketter, on the Stone road. There are 1400 trees yielding sap for syrup in that grove.

CHILDLESS

Today a letter came to me
For which I've no reply,
For when 'twas written, I could see,
A tear was in her eye.
And as I read the missive through,
The while the lady wrote,
Right well I understood and knew
A lump was in her throat.
"You pen your lines of childhood's joys,
You tell from day to day
About the little girls and boys
Who romp with you in play;
But have you not one thought to give
To leave us reconciled,
One gentle word for us who live
Without a little child?"
"Oh, there are countless of us here
Who dream at night and pray
And hunger for the love and cheer
You claim from day to day.
Aye, thousands of us desolate
Who read the lines you've penned,
And through the long years sit and wait
The child God doesn't send.
"In fancy many a dress we sew
And many a ribbon tie,
And many a tender kiss bestow
On childhood's drowsy eye.
We, too, would have them romp in play
And march to horn and drum.
But oh, with heavy hearts we stay:
God will not let them come."
I know it, lady, know it well,
And would that I could speak
A word to stay the tears which fell
This morning down your cheek.

But quarrel not with God's command,
"Tis vain to question why,
We also fall to understand
When little children die.

ALLEGED DIAMOND THIEVES ARRESTED

Charleston, W. Va., March 21—A man and woman giving the names of Jack C. Probasco and wife, are in jail here today, awaiting the arrival of Chicago detectives who seek to identify them as members of an alleged band of diamond thieves, said to have staged gem robberies throughout the country, the loot of which reached $8,000,000.

The couple were arrested late yesterday on a C. and O. passenger train on instructions from Chicago authorities. Descriptions are said to correspond with those of a couple sought. A search of their baggage and persons failed to disclose any gems.

Both deny implication in gem robberies. The man says he knows Mrs. Ad Penewit is very seriously ill.

FARM PROGRESS

MORE MONEY FOR
FARMER LAST YEAR
THAN IN 1922

The average Ohio farmer made more money last year than he did the year before. Though the increase was slight in some counties, in a few counties the more alert farmers made a dollar a day more in 1923 than in 1922.

This report, bearing out an impression found in most parts of the state, is based on farm records summarized and compared at extension schools in more than 50 Ohio counties within the past three months. Extension specialists in rural economics at the Ohio State University conducted these schools.

Records summarized in Henry County for 14 farmers show as great an increase as any, reports C. R. Arnold, extension economist. "Of these 14 farmers, all alert business men," continues Mr. Arnold, "only five had smaller net farm incomes for 1923 than for 1922."

"On the average they made a dollar a day more last year than the year before. Their average gain in net farm income for 1923 over 1922 was $352. That is, in 1922 the net farm income made by these men averaged $1637; in 1923 it averaged $1989."

"Such an income, which is probably as high as any similar group of Ohio farmers could report for 1923, is the farmer's salary for his labor and managerial ability, and the interest on his investment."

"Slightly better average crop yields in 1923, taking Ohio as a whole, higher prices for most farm products, and somewhat lower prices for what he had to buy helped increase his net income."

MASONS PLANNING
MAY 12 MEETING

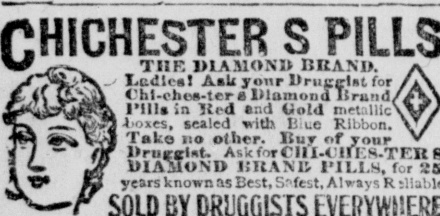

Plans for the annual meeting of Wright Council, No. 96, Royal and Select Masters, May 12, when the Super-Excellent Master's degree will be conferred on a number of candidates, will be laid at a special meeting of the council to be held in the Masonic rooms Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

The meeting is being held this year later than usual, but elaborate plans are being laid for the afternoon and evening of Masonic work that features the annual gathering. It is expected there will be fifteen or eighteen candidates for the Super-Excellent Master's degree, which will be conferred by the local council.

State officers of the Royal and Select Masters will attend the meeting, it is expected, although a list of those who will attend is not yet available. They are scheduled for addresses following the usual banquet. To make arrangements for the meeting all Super-Excellent Masters are urgently requested to be present at the meeting Monday night.

TO STAGE PERFORMANCE

The performance of "Aaron Slick from Punkin Creek," which was to have been given under the auspices of the McKinley and Junior High School Parent-Teacher's Association, several weeks ago, will be staged at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Friday evening, March 28.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Evil Shepherd

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Sir Timothy smiled in triumph. "My dear young lady," he begged, "let us now be friends again. I desired to know your trump card. For that reason I fear that I have been a little brutal. No; please don't hurry away. You have shot your bolt. Already Mr. Shopland is turning the thing over in his mind. Was I looking outside that night, Mr. Shopland, to guide that young man's flabby arm? He scarcely seemed man enough for a murderer, did he, when he sat quaking on that stool in Soto's bar while Mr. Ledsam tortured him? I beg you again not to hurry, Miss Hyslop. At any rate wait while my servants fetch you a taxi. It was clouding over when I came in. We may even have a thunderstorm."

"I want to get out of this house," Daisy Hyslop declared. "I think you are all horrible. Mr. Ledsam did behave like a gentleman when he came to see me, and Mr. Shopland asked questions civilly. But you—" she added, turning round to Sir Timothy.

"Hush, my dear," he interrupted, holding out his hand. "Don't abuse me. I am not angry with you—not in the least—and I am going to prove it. I shall oppose any search warrant which you might apply for, Mr. Shopland, and I think I can oppose it with success. But I invite you two, Miss Hyslop and Mr. Ledsam, to my party on Thursday night. Once under my roof you shall have carte blanche. You can wander where you please, knock on the walls for secret hiding places, stamp upon the floor for oulbettes, upstairs or down, the cellars and the lofts, the grounds and the park, the whole of my domain is for you from midnight on Thursday until four o'clock. What do you say, Mr. Shopland? Does my offer satisfy you?"

The detective hesitated. "I should prefer an invitation for myself," he declared bluntly.

Sir Timothy shook his head. "Alas, my dear Mr. Shopland," he regretted, "that is impossible! If I had only myself to consider I would not hesitate. Personally I like you. You amuse me more than anyone I have met for a long time. But unfortunately I have my guests to consider! You must be satisfied with Mr. Ledsam's report."

Shopland stroked his stubby mustache. It was obvious that he was not in the least disconcerted.

"There are three days between now and then," he reflected.

"During those three days, of course," Sir Timothy said dryly, "I shall do my best to obliterate all traces of my various crimes. Still, you are a clever detective, and you can give Mr. Ledsam a few hints. Take my advice. You won't get that search warrant, and if you apply for it none of you will be at my party."

"I accept," Shopland decided. Sir Timothy crossed the room, unlocked the drawer of a magnificent writing-table, and from a little packet drew out two cards of invitation. They were of small size but thick, and the color was a brilliant scarlet. On one he wrote the name of Francis, the other he filled in for Miss Hyslop.

"Miss Daisy Hyslop," he said, "shall we drink a glass of wine together on Thursday evening, and will you decide that although, perhaps, I am not a very satisfactory correspondent, I can at least be an amiable host?"

The girl's eyes glistened. She knew very well that the possession of that card meant that for the next few days she would be the envy of every one of her acquaintances.

"Thank you, Sir Timothy," she replied eagerly. "You have quite misunderstood me, but I should like to come to your party."

Sir Timothy handed over the cards. He rang for a servant and bowed the others out. Francis he detained for a moment.

"Our little duel, my friend, marches," he said. "After Thursday night we will speak again of this matter concerning Margaret. You will know then what you have to face."

Margaret herself opened the door and looked in.

"What have those people been doing here?" she asked. "What is happening?"

Her father unlocked his drawer once more and drew out another of the red cards.

"Margaret," he said, "Ledsam here has accepted my invitation for Thursday night. You have never, up till now, honored me, nor have I ever asked you. I suggest that for the first part of the entertainment you give me the pleasure of your company."

"For the first part?"

"For the first part only," he repeated, as he wrote her name upon the card.

"What about Francis?" she asked.

"Is he to stay all the time?"

Sir Timothy smiled. He looked up his drawer and slipped the key into his pocket.

"Ledsam and I," he said, "have promised one another a more complete mutual understanding on Thursday night. I may not be able to part with him quite."

Intermittent glimpses of sunshine before the take-off, encouraged Major Frederick L.
